Rape Aggression Defense Registration

Registration for the Rape Aggression Defense Program at Florida Atlantic University is on a first come, first serve basis. Due to the rising costs of reprinting student manuals and replacing equipment, a nominal fee is charged for the course. Your reservation for the class is not complete until this payment is made. Payment must be made by check or money order payable to FAU.

Cost for the class is as follows (appropriate identification is required):

- | | | |
|----|--|------|
| 1. | Currently enrolled FAU/PBCC Students | $10 |
| 2. | FAU/PBCC faculty, staff, alumni | $20 |
| 3. | All others | $30 |
| 4. | Returning trained students (practice)* | Free |
- *(Returning students must show their class manual as proof)

Cancellation Policy: The RAD course is taught by police officers and staff members of Florida Atlantic University. At times, emergency situations result in cancellation of classes. If the class is cancelled, students will receive a full refund of their registration fees. If a student cannot attend and cancels, refunds of registration fees will be provided if the Police Department receives the cancellation at least 24 hours in advance of the first class.
